Dear Purchasing Manager,

Over the years, I've turned to Jones Dairy Farm products to start my mornings; their wholesome, all-natural breakfast meats are a food choice I feel good about making. I've marked off some Jones products below that I'd love to see on your shelves.

The Jones story goes back to 1889, when their founder, Milo Jones, began selling pork sausage made with his mother's delicious, four-ingredient recipe—the same recipe used to this day.

Jones carries many products that are Certified Gluten-Free and made without additives or artificial ingredients. The result is great flavor and enhanced nutritionals that everyone can enjoy—which is why you'll find Jones products at 10,000 grocery store locations across the world.

In a market where companies often compromise quality for the sake of profit, Jones stands out through their commitment to doing what's right: providing real, high-quality meats, and never cutting corners to get there.

I ask that you please stock the following products.
